The View from the Vicarage

t is often said that war is a young man's game. It is true that the vast majority of those who fought and died in the First World War, the 'Great War' were young men, but not all. The last French soldier to die in that conflict; Augustin Trebuchon killed at 10.45 on 11th November 1918 was 40. He had served in the army all through the war from August 1914 until his death 15 minutes before the cease-fire came into effect. The last British soldier to die; George Ellison was killed at 09.30 that same day. Like Augustin, George had served throughout the conflict and like Augustin he was 40. He lies in St. Symphorien Military Cemetery on the outskirts of Mons. His grave faces that of Jack Parr, the first British soldier to die in that war. He was a young man; having lied about his age when he joined up, he had turned 17 a month before his death on 21 August 1914.

In the years between August 1914 and November 1918 the death toll of soldiers and civilians, of all nationalities, across the world in what was a truly global conflict was unimaginable. Those who survived that conflict are now all gathered to their rest, along with their mates who fell all those years ago. And they lie at peace until the last trumpet will sound.

Those who fought in the 'Great War' are at rest so what will we be remembering in a few days' time? I don't think that we will be glorifying war, as is sometimes suggested. I hope we will be remembering their service, their sense of duty, their loss. I hope we will be praying for an end to war and conflict. The Great War, was seen as the War to end all wars. No-one could imagine another war after the carnage of that conflict. From our viewpoint in history we know that wasn't the case.

As we gather on the 8th of November 2020, one hundred and two years after the Armistice on the Western Front we will be remembering all those who have died in conflicts and wars in the years since. Among them I'll be remembering Harry Newell who died on 15th August 1944 in the south of France whilst his two brothers Jimmy and David were fighting in Normandy. All three were in the Parachute Regiment. Jimmy and David survived the war and David eventually became my father-in-law. Harry's grave is on the outskirts of Marseilles he lies in a lovely spot with his mates who were killed on the same day. They lie together, forever young.

And I'll be remembering my friend and neighbour, Walter Barrie. Like Augustin and George, Walter was an older man, though he would have hated to be thought of as one. He was 41 when he was killed in Afghanistan in 2013, having served in the army for 25 years. Like George and Augustin he was also killed on the 11th of November. He lies in a lovely spot near to the barracks where he spent much of his career.

As we gather together on Remembrance Sunday, or as we remember guietly at home, it does not matter if we are remembering family members, friends, loved ones or names on the memorial. What does matter is that we remember men and women who served their country, who gave their lives in its service. What matters is that we remember, and that we pray for peace. For peace in our world, and for peace in our hearts.

May they rest in peace and rise in glory. God bless you all Stephen

News from Norwood Chapel

Dear Friends,

I send greetings to you from Norwood Chapel! My name is Shannon DeLaureal and I am the new Pastor in Charge in Norwood. Rev. Lesley Taylor, who has served Norwood for the past six years, has moved to another circuit and started a new stationing on $\mathbf{1}^{\text{st}}$ September. Norwood's Management Team and I are grateful for Lesley's service and commitment to Norwood and wish her all the best.

Let me take this opportunity to introduce myself. My family and I moved to the UK in West Yorkshire a year ago and we are delighted to be here! We are Americans but have lived on the island of Ireland for 10 years. We spent 5 years in Northern Ireland and 5 years in the Republic of Ireland where I served in the Methodist Church in Ireland. We have dear friends in Ireland that we consider to be "extended family." Even though we no longer live there, Ireland will forever remain in our hearts.

I am currently serving on the Wharfedale and Aireborough Methodist Circuit, with 4 churches under my charge: Addingham, Ben Rhydding, Hawksworth and Norwood. We feel so blessed to be in 'hillwalking country,' especially when the springtime lockdown happened. Our daily walks helped us explore and learn our local village more but we know there's still so much for us to see and discover. What a special place this is. And the friendliness of Yorkshire people add to the charm. We hope you don't mind, but we don't want to ever move again – this corner of the world is simply a piece of heaven!

Sitting in the picturesque countryside, Norwood Chapel has recently restarted its worship services and it is so lovely to be back in the building together after 31 weeks. Our services are held on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of the month at 2:30pm. We hope to begin letting out the retreat space again in the springtime, but this is a tentative date projection. We all know how uncertain these times are with the pandemic and how quickly restrictions can change.

As we near the end of Autumn, may we give thanks for the blessings that each day brings. May we continue to stay safe and take precautions that will help prevent the coronavirus from spreading. May we share the light of Christ by helping those who are vulnerable, staying connected with friends and family, and offering hope for the future. Let us remember that as challenging as these times are, God is journeying with us, offering guidance and comfort, peace and hope. Our God is a loving constant as we live in an ever-changing world.

Every blessing, ~ Rev. Shannon

REMEMBRANCE SERVICE SUNDAY, 8 NOVEMBER 2020 10.45 am

1000 to 1000 to

Church of England Services

As COVID19 continues to play havoc with all our lives it looks increasingly likely that we will have to continue our emergency pattern of services over the Winter and into the Spring.

The two exceptions to this will be Remembrance Sunday when we will have a service in each parish and also on Christmas Day when we will also make sure that a service is held in each parish. At the moment I cannot see how we can hold any of the other services we would normally have at Christmas; Christingle Services and Carol Services, but if we can we will.

Attendance at services is holding up well and we have had several Sundays when we have been at capacity in some of our churches. To that end if you are planning on attending a Remembrance Day service could you make sure that the appropriate Churchwarden is aware so that we can make sure we can all worship safely.

Nearer the time we will be asking you to do the same for Christmas Day.

We will not be able to hold a special service to remember those we have lost this year. However please let me know the names of any loved one's that you would like to be included in prayers during November. The easiest way is to send me an email or give me a call. Stephen

A message from the new churchwarden at Weston and Denton.

Hello everyone. I am very honoured to have been elected as churchwarden for All Saints' Weston and St Helen's Denton. I moved to Denton with my husband in 2013, having lived in Horsforth for the previous 40 years. We were both very much involved with Leeds Parish Church (now Leeds Minster) where two of our three children were choristers.

Since arriving here I have been helping with the biennial Open Gardens weekend at Denton, Weston and Askwith and am currently Electoral Roll Officer for the parish.

I am very fortunate to take over the excellent work of my predecessors, Mary Booth and Rosemary Row, who retired last year after many years of service and I will give my full support to Stephen our Benefice Rector as we continue to care for our churches and communities.

With all good wishes, Han Chadwick

25 years ago, on 20th Nov 1995 that Princess Diana admitted that she had committed adultery, and spoke openly about her separation from the Prince of Wales in a frank interview for the BBC.

20 years ago, on 7th Nov 2000 that George W Bush was elected as the 43rd President of the USA, though the result of the election would not be known for over a month because of disputed votes in Florida.

15 years ago, on 30th Nov 2005 that John Sentamu became Archbishop of York. He was the first black archbishop in the Church of England.

Reverse Advent Calendar (in advance!)

Ever since my daughter, Becky, was very little, her Advent Calendar has been important to her. It's a great big wooden house with 25 drawers and hooks. Each drawer contains a wooded decoration to be hung on the adjacent hook. Each drawer also has space for a chocolate which probably explains Becky's love of her Advent Calendar! As she grew up and went to boarding school and then university responsibility for attaching the decorations was left to us until she came home for the holidays, but the chocolates had to be left for her.

Advent Calendars are fun and there are all sorts; even beer, whisky and gin calendars. But I want you to think about a very different type of Advent Calendar; the Reverse Advent Calendar. This year has been hard on us all, we all know that, but there are more people struggling to make ends meet this year than ever. Our Foodbanks are working harder than ever to help make sure that everyone in our community has enough to eat. It shouldn't be like this but it is. Because of COVID 19 far fewer churches have been able to have big Harvest collections to pass on to the Foodbanks. So this is where the Reverse Advent Calendar comes in. Essentially, instead of opening a box, or eating a sweet or chocolate each day of Advent you place an item in a box to be given to the foodbank. We did this in my last parish. As Becky was still at university until late in December we did our shopping for our Reverse Advent box all together. Becky described it as one of the best experiences of her Christmas (obviously apart from her Daddy's Christmas Sermon). Helping people has its own reward, we feel good about ourselves.

So why in Advance? Well because of COVID the Foodbank needs to get donations for Christmas in early so that they can be distributed safely. To that end they need donations by 6th December (so very early on in Advent). But if you would like to help, and if you can, why not use November to put together a Christmas box for the Foodbank?

I can collect boxes from you or you can bring them to the Vicarage at Askwith. They will then be delivered to the Foodbank to help our neighbours in need to have a better Christmas than they otherwise might have.

As well as the usual staples for Foodbanks it would be nice if you can include some Christmas treats. They may be the only ones some people get this Christmas.

Thankyou Stephen

Just a few exciting announcements from St Andrew's

BTO Looking out for birds

BTO Garden Bird Watch Free Offer

During this current period of uncertainty, many of us are looking to our gardens to enjoy nature and be outdoors, to learn, and to improve our well-being. BTO Garden Bird Watch (GBW) offers a great opportunity to learn more about garden birds and other wildlife, and to contribute directly to BTO's important scientific research on the value of gardens for wildlife. The more we know about how wildlife uses our gardens, the more we can make our cities, towns, villages and individual gardens better for nature.

The survey involves simply keeping a list of the birds you see visiting your garden over the course of a week, and then entering this into the BTO's online recording system. You can also record other garden wildlife, such as butterflies and mammals.

GBW is normally membership only, with an annual fee of £17, which includes an ID book and a quarterly magazine. The generous financial support of participants is what allows BTO to carry out its work monitoring garden wildlife and our scientific research.

However, we want to enable more people to get involved in garden wildlife recording under the current circumstances, to discover an enjoyable purpose in garden birdwatching, and to feel part of a community all working on the same project, even though all of us are confined to our own gardens. Therefore, we are offering free membership of the BTO Garden Bird Watch during the COVID-19 lockdown

The free offer does not include the book or magazines and will be online only. It will include

- Access to the GBW online recording system.
- A regular e-newsletter with information on recording and identifying garden wildlife.
- Access the BTO's team of wildlife experts, to answer your questions.

The free membership will be valid for one year, after which it will expire or can be renewed at the normal rate. To take part in Garden Bird Watch, please visit https://www.bto.org/our-science/projects/qbw/join-qbw

Garden Bird Watch is designed to find out how, when and why birds and other animals use our gardens. Participants send in weekly lists of garden birds and other wildlife, which are analysed by scientists working under the BTO's urban and garden ecology research programmes, to investigate the links between changes in wildlife populations and factors such as garden management, food, weather and urban structure.

The Spotted Flycatcher update.

I'm Paul Wheatley, I'm a local birder, naturalist and wildlife filmmaker from Leeds. I've been watching wildlife in the Washburn Valley since I was a lad. The Spotted Flycatcher has always been one of my favourite birds, and it's sad to see them declining in numbers. I'm really excited to work with the Heritage Centre and the local community to see if we can help out these fab birds.

I've been meeting with members of the Heritage Centre and the PCC to plan and launch a local conservation effort for 2021. The Washburn Flycatcher Project will engage with local people and organisations in order to give nature a helping hand. We particularly want to support the Spotted Flycatcher and Common Redstart. These characteristic birds, particularly the red listed Spotted Flycatcher, have seen dramatic declines in the UK. The Washburn, however, still has a good flycatcher population and several pairs nest in the vicinity of Fewston Church, nearby gardens and woodland.

The project will focus on 3 key areas of conservation action:

1) Erect nest boxes that have been specially designed for these species 2) Perform surveys, collect sightings and ring flycatcher chicks in order to contribute data that can help us better understand and protect these birds 3) Increase biodiversity, particularly through the creation of wildflower meadows, in order to boost food availability for Flycatchers

We've set ourselves a real challenge and we need your help to make this project happen! I'll be back in a future issue to explain how you can get involved when our Spotted Flycatchers return, all the way from Africa, to the Washburn Valley next May.

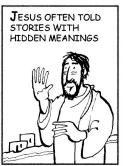

If you would like to volunteer please contact me C/O centre@washburnvalley.org

The Birds in Your Garden

Treecreeper

The treecreeper is an intriguing little bird and a joy to watch. It can be seen in gardens where, as would be expected with such a name, it creeps up and around trees, often being described as mouse-like. Despite it not often being spotted it is a lot more common than you might think, with over 200,000 breeding territories in the U.K.

Although about the same size as a Wren. it looks larger because of its long down-curved bill and its much longer, stiff tail feathers which it pushes against the tree for extra support. This means that, unlike the Nuthatch, it can't go back down the trunk. it has to fly down. They forage up one tree in a spiral around the trunk, then fly to the next one to repeat the process. A bird seen scuttling down a tree is almost always a Nuthatch.

Treecreepers are vulnerable to cold weather of a particular sort. If wet snow or rain is followed by a hard frost, ice can encase the trees, sealing in their food, and they can be in trouble. These conditions rarely affect the sheltered interiors of woods, so Treecreepers in such a habitat should be less likely to suffer.

However, birds which rely on a network of more exposed trees, often those that typically visit gardens, can be vulnerable.

Being so small, they do need to be able to feed during all the available daylight hours in winter.

The Treecreeper's diet is made up of insects, insect larvae and spiders, but they will eat some small seeds, mainly pine and spruce, if they are really hungry in the winter months. They do not usually take supplementary bird food, though in recent years there has been an increasing number of reports of them feeding on peanuts in a mesh feeder.

The population is stable, with no long-term trend up or down, though their numbers do fluctuate from year-to-year, with a negative trend being especially noticeable after cold, wet winters.

They are sedentary birds only leaving their breeding territories in autumn, and even then, usually going no further than a few kilometres. Once a treecreeper establishes a territory, it tends to stay within its boundaries. Although solitary during most of the year, they will join flocks of tits in autumn and winter, roaming woodlands and parks seeking food.

As I said, Treecreepers are quite common, but rather hard to spot. Usually it's a movement that gives them away – look out for them on tree trunks or even fence posts, but approach quietly. When disturbed they freeze, their mottled plumage blending into the pattern of the bark. They also have an annoying habit of avoiding you by moving quickly to the other side of the tree the minute you spot them.

They are more usually seen in gardens between November and April, probably because they are more conspicuous when there are no leaves on the trees. Their song does not help in locating or identifying them either, being a very quiet 'see-see-see' sound easily mistaken for insect noise.

Mid Wharfedale Parish Council midwharfedalepc .wordpress.com

Due to the continued Covid19 restrictions an ordinary meeting of MWPC was held via Zoom on 20th August 2020 starting at 7.45pm. All parishes were represented along with Councilor Oldham from Harrogate Borough Council (HBC) and members of the public Minutes of the Meeting held on 21st May 2020 having been circulated were proposed by Councilor Whitley and resolved as a correct record and then signed remotely by the Chairman.

In matters arising the Clerk confirmed that the accounts for 2019/20 had been submitted to PKF Littlejohn as part of their request to be part of a 5% inspection requirement. Further information had been asked for which had been sent. Any further comments were awaited.

Nesfield phone kiosk. Clerk had written again to HBC but in the intervening time BT had submitted a formal planning application. The outcome of this was to be awaited before any further action. Clerk Appraisal. This was now complete and copies were available from the Clerk or Chairman

Under discussion items the Clerk presented information on WCAG which is The Public Sector Bodies (Websites & Mobile Applications No.2) Accessibility Regulations 2018 (to give its full title) this came into force in late 2018. Its aim is to ensure public sector websites and mobile apps are accessible to all users, especially those with disabilities. By September 23rd 2020, all parish, town & borough councils must have a website that complies with WCAG 2.1 AA rating so that it meets Accessibility Guidelines as set in the Public Sector Bodies Accessibility regulations. AA compliance covers many areas of a website and include how it's constructed, how the user navigates around it, how the information is presented & displayed. In addition, the public body must be aware of all the website's content and what may not be compliant and publish an Accessibility Statement. This was then discussed with the Clerk providing various costings. These being, Councilspace.com

£226.50, Myparishcouncil.Co.uk £560.00 plus VAT and Visionict.com £850. All providing the same service. After a further discussion it was proposed Councilor Shepherd and resolved to accept the Councilspace.com quotation

Councilor Broderick reported that the top of Denton road sign had been removed. This is of historical interest and after a discussion it was agreed that the Clerk will investigate options and costings for a replacement

Under Highway Councilor Whitley asked for the pot holes to the bends on Moor Lane Askwith to be reported. Councilor Shepherd asked for 2 blocked gullies on Askwith Lane Askwith to be reported. Councilor Crossley asked for the pot holes on Church Lane Weston to be reported. Other highway matters were still ongoing IE verge reflector posts on Nesfield green and blocked gullies at Hallam Lane junction Askwith.

Councilor Oldham gave a lengthy report on the current Unitary Council proposals. This is a moving target, with many questions to be asked of our local government councilors. This needs resolving by mid September and with so many questions and various options it was decided to make one list of questions to be put forward at one of online meetings attended by an NYCC Councilor Highway matters from the last meeting were discussed, with all the items to be done agreed by NYCC, but unfortunately none of these items had yet been completed.

Accounts for the last 3 months were dealt invoices presented these were proposed by Councilor Powell and resolved. Planning applications were listed and discussed. One of the planning applications was by BT to remove the phone box at Askwith. The outcome of this was to be awaited and depending on the outcome MWPC will investigate adopting this kiosk.

The next meeting is 19th November 2020 and it is hoped that this will be at Askwith Village Hall starting at 7.45pm. Should the lockdown still be an issue and a meeting is held electronically with meeting information on the agenda.

Recipe

Figs wrapped in pancetta

Fresh Figs appear in the shops early in September and carry on until December. This is a simple recipe with delicious results that even the most sceptical fig eaters will enjoy.

Ingredients

2 Fresh figs per person

1 piece of Prosciutto or Serrano ham per fia

1 cube of soft or cheddar cheese per fiq

Method

Score across the top of each fig with a cross shape. Place the cube of cheese in the centre of the cross. Wrap the ham around the fig pulling up the sides to look like a flower.

Cook in the centre of a pre-heated moderate oven for 6 - 10 minutes or until the cheese is runny.

To serve

Serve as a starter with a side salad
